

Kentucky Equine Research Feeds the Champions

HARNES RACING. Brooks Feed Store in Port Perry, Ontario fueled the big winners during the fall months. In the $1 million Meadowlands Pace, Allamerican Theory picked up his seventh victory in 13 starts. The colt is fed Brooks Supreme. Finishing first in the Hambletonian was Amigo Hall, a 27-to-1 long shot powered by Pacemaker X (formerly Brooks Extruded). Rotation won the Nat Ray in August, the Maple Leaf Trot in September, and the American National in October, setting a track record and pushing his lifetime earnings to more than $1.1 million. Rotation trains and races on Rich's Sweet Feed from the Brooks feed line.

COMBINED TRAINING. Riders sponsored by KER and Pennfield Feeds collected top honors in events here and abroad. At Over the Walls Horse Trials, Phillip Dutton rode Dusky Moon to a win in the Advanced Division 2. Karen O'Connor claimed victory with Grand Slam in the Advanced Division 3. Kim Severson, a Pennfield EnduroEvent Ener-G devotee, finished first in the Advanced Championship and the Advanced Division 1.

John Williams was fourth and 18th, David O'Connor was 15th, and Karen O'Connor was 27th out of 81 entries at the tough Burghley CCI four-star competition in England. At the Plantation Field Horse Trials, Phillip Dutton rode eight horses and claimed two wins, a third, and a fourth in the Advanced divisions. Finally, Karen O'Connor earned the individual silver medal on Joker's Wild at the Pan American Eventing Championship.

TENNESSEE WALKING HORSES. At the Walking Horse National Celebration in Shelbyville, Tennessee, Dr. Charlene Cook rode her mare She's Legal Tender to wins in the Amateur Owned and Trained English Trail Pleasure class and the Amateur English Trail Pleasure World Grand Championship. Dr. Cook feeds Wrangler Horse Pellets and Equi-Jewel from Flint River Mills.

ENDURANCE. Pat Murray and her horse CR Flash Gordon helped the Pacific North Squad earn the team gold medal in the Pan American Endurance Championship. The two also won the USET Championship 100 and were on the gold medal team at that event where Flash earned the Best Condition award. Ms. Murray says she considers KER's Endura-Max Electrolyte to be vital to her horse's excellent performance.

DUTCH WARBLOOD. Horal, an imported stallion owned by Mr. and Mrs. David Scibal's Windholme Farm, passed his keuring (testing for manners, soundness, performance, and temperament) and was approved as the first Dutch Harness Horse stallion to be licensed for breeding in North America. All the horses at Windholme eat Pacemaker Fat & Fiber Pellets supplied by Culpeper Farmers Cooperative. Carol Johnson, the farm's breeding specialist, said, "Fat & Fiber has been instrumental in helping our stallion maintain a good weight without making him too hot to handle. We have about 40 horses including many Arabs and Arab crosses, and all of them, even the ones that are out all the time, glisten like new-minted coins."

RODEO. Amanda Gamblin of Goliad, Texas needed a great feed to keep her Quarter Horse barrel-racing mare in top condition during a tough season of training and competition. She found that feed in Alcomo Elite Performance Ration from Allied Feed. "My mare stays fat, slick, and shiny," said Ms. Gamblin, who rides Lena's Native Dancer in Women's Professional Rodeo Association events. Successes include finishing second in breakaway roping at the 2002 College National Finals Rodeo and winning or placing in three of the biggest professional rodeos in Texas last year.

THOROUGHBRED RACING. One after the other, races in the Breeders' Cup World Thoroughbred Championships at Santa Anita were testaments to Hallway Feeds. Trainer Richard Mandella saddled winners in the Breeders' Cup Classic, Turf, and Juvenile Fillies contests. Mandella also watched his horses finish one-two in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile. All Mandella's horses train and race on Hallway Feeds products. Hallway also supplies feed to trainer Bob Baffert, whose horses placed second in the Classic and third in the Juvenile Fillies. Still another Breeders' Cup honor was claimed by a Hallway-fed horse when Touch Of The Blues placed in the Mile for trainer Neil Drysdale. Seven other Hallway-fed horses finished either fourth or fifth throughout the day of racing by the world's elite equines.

Congratulations to all these horses, owners, trainers, riders, drivers, and support teams. Winning requires a group effort, and KER is proud of its Team Members who contribute to these successes.
